ASEAN-EU STI Days 2015

The ASEAN-EU Science, Technology and Innovation Days are a forum style event, initiated by the European Commission's 7th Framework Programme funded SEA-EU-NET II project. The ASEAN-EU STI Days 2015 will be organised in Paris, France on 17-19 March, 2015. This year's edition of the event will focus on presenting ASEAN research excellence to European stakeholders as well as raising awareness for current developments in Science & Technology in the most dynamic region worldwide. The number of scientific workshops and expert sessions on various topics – like infectious diseases; water, food, energy nexus; metrology; ASEAN Economic Community and innovation – is expected to amount to 15, the expected number of participants is around 300, mainly from Southeast Asia and Europe. The STI Days are an ideal occasion for networking and exchange of ideas in thematic areas like Health, Environment, Water, Food Security & Safety or Innovation. A Brokerage Event connected to the previously mentioned topics, field visits at research facilities in and around Paris as well as a paper and poster competition make the programme even more attractive. The STI days are generally visited by policy makers, company representatives, researchers and research administrators from both regions.

Background of the STI Days

The ASEAN-EU STI Days are a forum style event, initiated by the FP7 funded INCO-NET project: SEA-EU-NET II. The first event of this kind was organised in Bangkok, Thailand on 21-23 January 2014 and was hosted by the National Science & Technology Development Agency Thailand (NSTDA). The event had a great success with more than 500 participants from both regions. The focus had been laid on providing insight on the European research and innovation landscape in Southeast Asia. It also served as the official launch of Horizon 2020 in the ASEAN region. For results from the ASEAN EU-STI Days 2014 in Bangkok, Thailand please visit our archive.

Program
